AAMS

An International Education

Lingnan College, Sun Yat Sen University, China (triple accredited & highly ranked for MBA and EMBA education in China)

Lingnan College is the highly ranked center of management education in Guangdong province in Southern China. The first part of our visit is an immersion in Chinese business culture through seminars and company visits. The second part is based on negotiating skills roleplays combining teams from China, Eastern and Western Europe.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) Boston, USA

MIT Center for Transportation and Logistics is a top-ranked Ivy League institution, featuring the module “Logistics and Supply Chain Management”. This world famous center of academic excellence welcomes our Executive MBA participants for an intensive module in one of its strongest research areas. During our studies there we work with American Executives and our Belgian based peers.

ESSCA School of Management, France

Located on the banks of the River Seine, west of Paris, this area is a major economic center in the Paris region, employing 100,000 people and home to many corporate head offices. ESSCA is a Grande Ecole, offering adult continuing education in management. During our week in Porto we focus on the entrepreneurship, cross-cultural innovation management and creative thinking.

American University in Cairo, Egypt

The module offers you a unique experience focused on the enrichment of your high-level managerial skills in a global context. Students will explore the innovative business models and dynamic markets during the new module in Africa.
